

GBTEC and Horváth: Strategic partnership supports clients in the holistic transformation and optimization of their processes

International management consultancy Horváth has entered into a strategic partnership with GBTEC, a leading provider of Business Process Management (BPM) and Governance, Risk and Compliance (GRC) software.

The partnership gives Horváth full access to GBTEC's state-of-the-art BPM and GRC solutions and integrates them into Horváth's existing consulting portfolio. Customers will now benefit from the combination of long-standing expertise and powerful technology, especially in the areas of SAP transformation, process automation and risk management.

"We are excited to be working with Horváth, whose consulting approach we will support with our BPM and GRC software portfolio," said Kiumars Farhur, Head of Partner Management at GBTEC. "By combining our intelligent BPM solutions with Horváth's extensive management consulting expertise, we can offer companies a holistic approach to optimizing their business processes and strengthening their governance and compliance practices."

The strategic partnership between GBTEC and Horváth represents a shared commitment to delivering exceptional value and transformational solutions to customers. Both companies are excited about the opportunities this collaboration will bring to the digital transformation and process optimization consulting space.
